Water & Electric Board States Industry Must Pay Bill In Full

The Elba Water and Electric Board met in regular session on Tuesday night, November 13 at City Hall and discussed a variety of important matters during a one-hour meeting.

Present at the monthly meeting was Board Chairman Oscar Vaughan, secretary D.M. English, and members Cleo Hawkins, Gladys Yelverton and Jack Prescott. Also present was Mickey Murdock.

After the routine adoption of the minutes, chairman Vaughan stated, "I was well pleased with the cooperation at the organizational meeting and hope the cooperation will continue throughout the year."

Mr. Charles Lowman, representing the Alabama Electric Coop, addressed the board and requested it extend the contract with AEC thru the year 2025.

Lowman stated the AEC is required to have long-term contracts with its users by REA as security for loans. The extension, from 2005 until 2025, would allow AEC to acquire further loans to permit construction and upgrading of systems in the southeast.

"We plan to continue at the present rate for the remainder of the year," said Lowman, "and also continue temporary discounts, if possible. At the present, AEC doesn't forecast a raise in rates during the later 1990's."

The board seemed in favor of granting the extension, but stated it would discuss the matter further and make a decision at its December meeting.

A report that Kleinfert's had deducted $6,000 from its electric bill to cover power outages got the attention of all board members and all agreed the company should pay the bill in full.

Kleinfert's paid its bill, but deducted $6,000, claiming it was off of electricity for a number of hours on July 16 and August 17. The deduction was made to cover losses incurred due to the outage.

Cleo Hawkins stated, "Is it right for one and not for all? If we give permission to Kleinfert's to deduct when the power is off we should also give it to other industries, as well as residents."

All board members agreed that Kleinfert's should pay its bill in full and stated the City couldn't guarantee that electricity would be on 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. "We expect the lights to be on," said Hawkins, "but there's no guarantee. I believe the outages were caused by lightning and by a private firm doing work. In both cases we had nothing to do with the outages."

The board instructed Hawkins to meet with the City Attorney to word a letter explaining the causes of the outages and the board's decisions.

The board was informed by Mr. Vaughan that over 500 water customers didn't have meters, or had meters that didn't work, and as a result, the customers were being billed the minimum rate. The customers being billed the minimum rate included businesses and a washeria.

The board agreed it was losing money because of the inoperative meters and stated the meters should be replaced.

Bids on new meters were opened at the meeting, and the bids were received from Alabama Water Works ($33 each), Wallace Pump and Supply ($26.80 each) and Neptune Water Meter Co. ($27 each with a $4 rebate on each old meter).

The board discussed the bids; however, Hawkins expressed displeasure with the entire discussion and stated, "When a work order is turned in a meter is checked. Why all of the sudden, are there 500 meters that need replacing?"

Hawkins objected to accepting a bid, prompting the board to table the matter until its next meeting.

A review of the financial status showed the board to be in "good shape." A net gain of $21,000 was reported in October, despite over $2,400 owed in old bills.

The rural water system was also showing a loss; however, the board stated it would take action on all customers not paying for the service.

In other action at the meeting the board:

- Approved bills for payment;
- Discussed changing the billing system of the Water and Electric Department to twice a month.

HRDC Accepting Applications For Heat Energy Assistance

Human Resource Development Corporation - HRDC - will begin accepting applications November 27 for Low Income Heat Energy Assistance Program (LHEAP). To be eligible, a household must make application and furnish proof of household income of all household members. The head of the household (or spouse) is the person who should make application, according to Peggy James, HRDC executive director.

The Social Security card of the applicant, proof of monthly household income and a recent heating bill should be provided at the time application is made. Persons who reside in a public housing project, Section 8 housing, or any other type housing in which the Federal or state government pays all or a portion of the household's heating cost, either directly to the household or as a second party payment, are not eligible for assistance under this program.

Applications will be taken on November 27

Brainstorms.....

With Ferrin Cox

Football season is over for Elba with the upset loss at Brundidge last Friday night, but Elba ball players need not hang their heads in shame. They won all the regular season games and went through the second of the playoffs. That ain't never happened here before. This doesn't mean I drove home happy Friday night, but neither did I hang my head in shame.

A positive glimmer for Elba came a few weeks ago when an Ozark fan wrote a letter to the editor of The Dothan Eagle raving about the friendly, cooperative people they encountered when they journeyed to Elba for a regular season game. The feelings of the visitor were the kind that make us proud of our friends and neighbors who extended such hospitality. Many, many times the only exposure a person has with our community is during a sporting event and one sure grape can stain the reputation of the entire community. This in turn can cost a city future business, industry, etc. We salute the band parents and other fans who made Ozark welcome in our community.

A couple of weeks ago I made a photo of two brothers and a live rattlesnake. After making the picture I started asking names and details as a normal reaction I stepped forward of couple of steps and started writing. Also, as normal, the subjects of the photo started toward me. Very quickly the brother with the snake was advised he was close enough cause I could just see that of "mad rattler getting loose and striking straight at me!" Then by the time the paper was printed, I had the names all mixed up and credited the wrong brother with holding the snake. However, you probably noticed something amiss in the picture which said the man on the left had the snake when actually the snake was being held by the man on the right.

Friday night after the football game I got in a bind. Normally we leave a vehicle for our ball playing son to come home on, or go wherever teenagers go. Since things didn't work out that way on this out-of-town game, I went to pick him up. In all that crowd of crying students, he wasn't to be found. I decided to go back to the car and sit until the crowd cleared out - and the car was gone! He had found it, and thinking it was left for him, just got it in and drove off. It has been many a year since I called home from a band room for someone to come get me!

School teaching is a snap! Last week I spent a full day at Zion Chapel with a group of sixth-graders and got along fine. Of course I avoided taking up the lunch money and recording full payment, reduced rate or free lunches. I also left a few minutes early to beat the bus traffic... but those little things are minor. Heck, just because the regular teacher had assigned review, had laid out the lesson plan with precise time slots, etc., and the students were on their best of manners... that also was minor. Even the fact that the teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Dyess, was in the classroom all the time to help me when I stumbled... I would have worked it out sooner or later! Seriously, I was honored at the invitation and thankful for the patience of the students for putting up with me all day. I was impressed with the smoothness of the transition from one subject to another, as the students knew what was next and moved into it without any hesitation. They also amazed me all day with the way they moved to catch up on unfinished worksheets when they were ahead on some other subject. I was pleased to see a computer in the room and felt a glow in my heart as sixth-graders finished their work and moved smoothly to exercising the computer, without any help from the teacher - thank goodness! We salute Mrs. Elizabeth Dyess.

By the time this reaches print, the state textbook committee will have announced books for the public school system. There is a group, the Eagle Forum, opposed to several of the books. They may all be bad, but we can't be real upset about the matter of women working in the home or out of the home - that isn't a moral issue with us. Nuclear disarmament pros and cons shouldn't determine textbook selection either, as we assume both views are presented in the textbooks.

Monday was a real blue Monday for us early in the day. It seemed impossible to put one foot in front of another. Then in The Montgomery Advertiser an expert was quoted as saying that people with my traditional large waistline live longer than those of our slim "trim counterparts." That made my day and I only wished there had been one more biscuit on my plate during breakfast.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

On November 6, more than 73,000 voters joined with me in saying that they would like new representation in the Second Congressional District. To each of you, let me say thanks, though a simple thank-you seems terribly inadequate for the trust and confidence you placed in me.

Naturally, I'm disappointed that our effort fell short, but my disappointment is not so much for myself as it is for those hundreds who joined in our cause. Because it was their work and support - not mine - that brought us so far.

But while I'm disappointed - I'm not dejected, because the good experiences of my campaign and the lessons I learned will remain far longer than the brief disappointment of the moment.

More than ever before in my life, I understand what it means to be an American. I will always be thankful that God granted me life in this greatest of all countries. A country where someone with personal fortune or political fame can still aspire to one of the highest elected offices of the land.

During my campaign, I crisscrossed South Alabama time and time again. Day after day I visited with the people who are the backbone of this nation - garment workers in Evergreen, farmers in Headland, teachers in Dothan, small businessmen in Greenville, civil servants in Montgomery.

I felt their love for this country, their care for their families, their concern about tomorrow. I felt their warmth and sincerity. I felt their desire to once again have government of the people, by the people, and for the people - not of the special interests, but for the special interests.

And for having experienced all this, I am a richer man, because I have been blessed far more than I've been beaten.

I wanted to win - and thousands shared this desire. But even in defeat, we made our statement, we made our contribution. And I'm sure our Congressman heard us when we spoke out against waste, when we said to something about the deficit, when we said work for equity in taxation, when we said remember veterans, when we said speak up for education. And I pray that he will remember what he heard. It's now a new day. Not a day to be bitter, but a day to be proud. Proud that we all have the freedom to do what we did.

Dear Ferrin,

How much is a copy of The Elba Clipper worth? Maybe that depends on how old it is. How about a two-week-old copy?

Well, I'm paying 85 cents per copy in addition to the regular price. How's that for loyalty? Now don't get frustrated and cut me off because I'm a complainer - just send it to my new address outlined on the attached form which is identical to the one I sent you on 9-24-84. If we can do this, I'll get the paper only a few days after most other people do and I'll consider it a real value.

If you don't have time, just keep sending it to my old address and I'll keep paying the 85 cents postage due. I do like the paper at most any time - I just need to be informed a little earlier.

SINCERELY,
MURRAY JOHNS

Dear Ricky,

On the night of November 2, after the Elba-Daleville ball game, my parents' car slid in a ditch on a county road. Unable to get a wrecker to come that late, my daughter, Melanie Waddell, called Police Chief John White who lives close by.

He went out in the pouring rain, met my parents at the top of the hill and took them six miles back to Elba.

The next day, Billy English pulled their car out with his tractor. The Thomason, Rainer and Waddell families would like to publicly thank these two men for their kindness.

Heather Marie Szymanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Szymanski, was honored on November 16 with a party on her fourth birthday. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Marie Talbot of Elba and Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Jones of Arion.

Socials with Shirley: The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rowe was the setting of a lovely reception given by their children celebrating the 50th wedding anniversary of their parents. Mrs. Grace Waters is on Cloud 9 and can hardly keep her mind on rolling hair as she is so excited about becoming a grandmother for the third time; this time it's a girl. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Waters was Natalie Nicole, whom they'll call Nik. She weighed 8 lbs. 13 ozs.

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to thank everyone for the many kind expressions of sympathy through cards, flowers, food and prayers, shown to us during the death of our mother.

ATTITUDE OF GRATITUDE

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to employ His protection, and favors... Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 24th day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of God and glorious Being, who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country, for the great and various favors which He has been pleased to confer upon us." (George Washington 1789)

Thanksgiving Day is as much American as baseball, hot dogs, apple pie and the flag. While just one day out of 365 is certainly not enough to give adequate thanks, this national holiday is losing some of its significance. For some it is a day of hunting. For others it means good food and family fellowship, and for still others it means a football game. As noble as were George Washington's intentions to set aside a national day of Thanksgiving, gratitude cannot be legislated. Gratitude is an attitude.

The attitude of gratitude is BIBLICAL. It is talked about in many places and illustrated in Luke 17:11-14. Luke says that as Jesus was on His way to Jerusalem that He passed through Samaria and Galilee. As He entered one of the villages of that area he was met by ten lepers who stood afar off and called out to Him in desperation and despair. "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us." "What a pitiful sight it must have been.

Leprosy was a terrible disease during Biblical times. There was no cure and lepers were forced to move about in groups or colonies. Cut off from their families and friends, these ten lepers (as were all lepers of Jesus' day) were ostracized from society and forced to live a lonely life of separation and despair. Many times leprosy is used in the Bible as a metaphor for sin.

The Bible says, "And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go show yourselves unto the priest (Luke 17:14). That's all He said. I'm sure that was a disappointment to those poor men. They had heard that He healed immediately other people of all kinds of diseases. He had healed many lepers by a word or request. Here He told them to just go to the priest. The Lord doesn't heal everyone the same way.

They might have hesitated and asked why. But they did not. They knew what His words implied - they would be healed. And they turned to go as He had commanded. They were acting in obedience to the Word of the Lord, and cleansing came. Luke says, "And it came to pass that, as they went, they were cleansed." It is just as true today when we act upon and obey the Word of the Lord. He delivers us.

But there is something more important than that. We find that one of the lepers, who was a Samaritan, when he saw that he was healed, turned back and ran to the feet of Jesus. He came back to the one who glorified Him, and with a loud voice he praised Him, and fell down on his face at His feet, giving Him thanks. "He realized that God was there in the person of Jesus and that Jesus was worthy of his praise, adoration and gratitude. His heart was filled with praise and thanksgiving for the blessings he had received. He had the attitude of gratitude. He had the thankfulness service right then and there.

The attitude of gratitude is BIBLICAL. Psalm 105:1 says, "O give thanks unto the Lord." Psalm 106:1 says, "Praise ye the Lord. O give thanks unto the Lord: for he is good." Gratitude is BIBLICAL.

The attitude of gratitude is NEEDED. Again we turn to the events following this miracle. Jesus gladly accepted the worship, adoration and gratitude of the leper, but he asked a question which indicated disappointment or a grievous spirit. He asked, "Were there not ten cleansed? But where are the nine? There are not that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger." Jesus had told them to go to the priests, but this man felt there was something that must come first; he must go back to the One who had healed him and tell him how grateful he was for his cleansing. If there had been the same gratitude in the hearts of the others they too would have fallen down at the feet of Jesus then gone on to the Temple. They did the thing Christ had bidden them, but this despised Samaritan had recognized there was a higher responsibility, and he returned to worship and praise the Lord in thanksgiving.

Is there not a lesson here for all of us? There is so little real worship on the part of Christian people today. There are so little expressions of gratitude. Jesus asks us, "But where are the nine?" An attitude of gratitude is needed. William Barclay has written that there is no other story in all of the gospels which so poignantly shows man's ingratitude. So often, once we get what we want, we never come back. So often children are ungrateful to their parents. As King Lear said, "How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child!" So often we are ungrateful to our fellowman. There are few of us who have not at some time owed a very great debt to someone else. There are few of us who in the end satisfied the debt of gratitude we owe. It so often happens that a friend, a teacher, a doctor does something for us which is impossible to repay. The tragedy of life is that we do not even try to repay it. As someone has written:

Blow, blow, thou winter wind,
 Thou art not so unkind
 As man's ingratitude.
 When G.K. Chesterton wrote his autobiography, he set himself to the task of defining in a single sentence the most important lesson he had learned. He concluded that the critical thing was whether one took things for granted or took them with gratitude. Cicero wrote, "Gratitude is not only the greatest of virtues, but also the parent of all the others."

Ten lepers men probably had different reasons for desiring to be healed. And nine probably had different reasons for the attitude of ingratitude. But where are the nine? The attitude of gratitude is needed desperately in our relationships to each other and to God. Finally an attitude of gratitude is BENEFICIAL. Its results are good. The Bible says that Jesus said to the leper who returned in gratitude, "Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole." He gave to this grateful leper the assurance that perhaps the others did not receive. It is one thing to be cleansed, but also that he was spiritually cleansed because of his faith. He received spiritual blessings which he would not have received had he not returned in an attitude of gratitude.

How is a grateful attitude beneficial? For one thing it brings us into the divine presence. It is an important element in worship. The Psalmist said, "Make a joyful noise... (Psalm 100). Thanksgiving or an attitude of gratitude corrects our anxieties. We constantly confront anxious days. We need to remember Paul's admonition: "Rejoice in the Lord always; and again I say, Rejoice." In everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus" (Phil. 4:4-6-7).

Thanksgiving - or an attitude of gratitude - keeps us from cynicism. It is a clue to life's meaning, and if thanksgiving brings us into the presence of Jesus, then it must be relevant to pain, frustration and loss - those things which produce so much of our cynicism. It was once said, "The true saint is not he who prays most, or fasts most, who gives most or is most eminent for temperance and justice; but is he who always thanks God for all that wills everything that God wills, who receives everything as an instance of God's goodness, and has a heart always ready to praise God for it."

Coffee Residents Win At Fair

Residents of Coffee County won $150 in prize and premium money and awards during the 1984 South Alabama State Fair held at Garrett Coliseum, Oct. 15 - 20.

Bo Boyd, New Brockton, 345; Trev Deane, Enterprise, 345; Coffee County 4-H Clubs, $20; Charles Bozeman, $15, and Brett Bryan, $25, both of Elba were winners in the Junior Beef Heifer Show.

The Kiwanis Club of Montgomery sponsors the statewide fair each year, and proceeds from the fair are allocated to recognized educational, youth and charitable agencies in the state. Recipients of funds have included the Alabama Institute for the Deaf and Blind in Talladega; Goodwill Industries which serves 28 counties in Alabama; Camp ASCCA for crippled children and adults located in Tallapoosa County; the 4-H Center in Shelby County; the KFA Foundation; Camp Kiwanis, a Girl Scout camp serving 16 counties on Lake Martin; Mt. Meigs Correctional Center for a chapel at Mt. Meigs, Ala.; and Lagoon Park, a public recreational facility in Montgomery, and many others.

The 1985 fair will be held Oct. 14-19, and information about the fair may be obtained by writing Box 3304, Montgomery, Alabama 36109-0304.

ASVAB Results In

When you receive a call from your local military recruiter asking you to enlist, don't be surprised. ASVAB results are in, and several men in uniform have been seen walking the halls of NBHS.

The ASVAB test is the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery. It is not put on a student's permanent record, and is mostly used to assist students in selecting a career for which they are suited. The test consists of ten short tests which cover the areas of general science, arithmetic, reasoning, coding speed, mechanical comprehension, electronic information and several others.

Scores are computed two ways: first, your score is compared percentage-wise to students in the same grade and sex; then your score is compared to scores of all young people in the U.S. from age 18-23.

In helping the student make a career decision, the test also gives occupational scores. The four areas are mechanics and crafts, business, electronics and health.

If you have a question about your results, please see Mrs. Strickland.

NBHS Gamecock Report

New Brockton SGA Meets

The New Brockton High School Student Government Association held its second regular meeting of the year on Wednesday, November 14.

Kelly Tindol, president, called the meeting to order and asked for a reading of the minutes from secretary Tinea White. Jamie Pittman, treasurer, gave a report on the club's financial standing. As of November 1, the club has $500.31.

Gina Hilton, vice president, gave a report on the school's news page, which is sponsored by the SGA. Every club representative will be responsible for one news article per month, and every SGA member will be responsible for selling two papers per week.

Club sponsor Janice Strickland discussed the club's money-raising project. It was decided that we would sell desert caps with Gamecocks printed on them. We decided to use the colors maroon and white. Caps will sell for $5.00.

Also discussed was the idea of using the quality point system for selection of valedictorian and salutatorian.

Nominations for "Student of the Month" were taken.

Kelly Tindol then adjourned the meeting.

Beta Club To Have Initiation

The New Brockton Beta Club held its second meeting of the year on Thursday, November 15. Beta Club president Sandra Reynolds called the meeting to order and asked for a reading of the minutes and a treasurer's report.

Informal initiation for prospective members was the main topic on the agenda. "Recruiting Day" was decided on as the theme for this year. It will include a variety of military exercises, with the new "recruits" dressed out in full uniform.

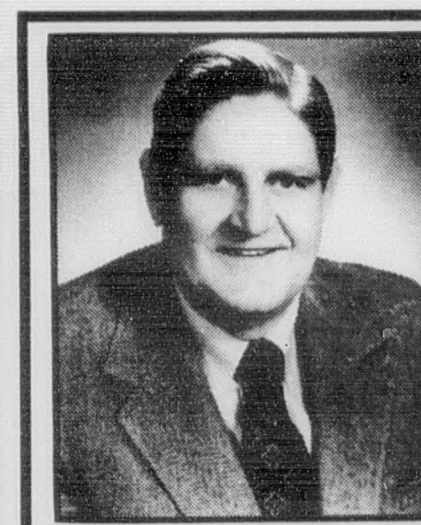

Informal initiation was to be held on Wednesday, November 21. Derek Smith and Derrick Harrison were selected as chairpersons for the initiation.

Also discussed were the changes to be made in the constitution, and plans for a Christmas party.

President Sandra Reynolds adjourned the meeting.

PAGAENT JUDGES . . . Highly qualified judges were carefully chosen to select the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) Miss Foxy Mama. Those special judges were, Left: Flophouse Fannie (Barbara Cole), Stevie Blunder (Robert Jackson), Magnolia Blossom (Peggy Waldrop), and Honeyuckle Rose (Debbie Wilkins).

Thank You!

I want to thank you for the overwhelming vote you gave me on November 6th in my bid for re-election to the U.S. Senate. I will be eternally grateful for the confidence you placed in me. As your Senator, I will continue to work for you, and for the best interest of Alabama and America.

Lunchroom Staff Has A Long & Busy Day Of Work

BY: WYMAN "Lavanchi" McWATERS and JASON "Gator" HUSSEY

Cooking, cleaning tables and washing dishes are just half of the work the Zion Chapel Lunch room staff performs each week day.

The staff starts their working day each morning at 7 o'clock and ends it at 2:30.

The staff consists of four full-time workers and two part-time workers.

Mrs. Clara Wambles has been on the lunchroom staff since 1965. Mrs. Jeannia Parker has thirteen years of experience. Mrs. Jessie Merle Lewis six years of experience and Mrs. Ira Jean Liprot has two years. The two part-time workers are Mrs. Debbie Hall and Mrs. Christine Baker. The bookkeeper for the lunchroom staff is Mrs. Barbara Among. She is in charge of selling lunch tickets and paying bills.

Teacher's Aide At

Zion Chapel

BY: SHEILA SIMMONS

Mrs. Shirley Goodson, who worked last at Project Independence in New Brockton, is now working at Zion Chapel as a teacher's aide.

Mrs. Goodson's job as teacher's aide includes many duties. She checks to see if each teacher has checked in each morning. If a teacher is late arriving to school for some reason, she keeps that teacher's class until the teacher or a substitute can arrive. She duplicates material and does chores to help teachers. In the afternoon Mrs. Goodson has two classes of Driver's Ed. students in study hall. These are the students who are not currently driving. She also assists in the office when needed by Mrs. Lela Wilson, school secretary.

Mrs. Goodson is married to Roger Goodson, who is the training NCO with the Alabama National Guard at New Brockton. They have one daughter, Stephanie, in the seventh grade here at Zion Chapel. They are members of the Woodland Grove Baptist Church.

Mrs. Goodson says she enjoys doing things to make children happy. When she makes a child's day a little brighter, it makes her very happy.

Rebel Yearbook Staff Visits Paragon Press

BY: JANET STEWART

Staten annual staff members and sponsor Rachel Bryan, along with four parent chaperones, spent their Veterans Day holiday learning about yearbook production. The group visited Paragon Press in Montgomery, the plant which publishes the Rebel yearbooks.

Mrs. Lou Johnson, Zion Chapel's customer service representative, and Mrs. Cheryl Marchison, sales representative for the school, guided the visitors on a tour through the entire plant. The editor and co-editor at Auburn High School went on the tour with the Zion Chapel group.

The learning experience began in the lobby where various Herff Jones yearbooks were displayed. Mrs. Johnson introduced herself and told the group a little bit about the plant, the workers and the production of yearbooks.

Step-by-step, the annual staff members were able to see what goes on in the plant as they were guided through room after room of machines, huge cameras and other equipment.

The group visited the receiving department where the packets sent in by the schools are opened and checked by hand. Other departments toured were Art and Copy.

One of the most interesting parts of the tour was the production of the covers. The plant in Montgomery, the staffers learned, makes all the covers for the four Herff Jones plants in the United States.

After goodbyes were exchanged, a group of very hungry people headed for Red Lobster. Stomachs were filled and purses and pockets were emptied as the tourists devoured shrimp, clam chowder, fish, lobster and other seafood specialties.

Next came a shopping spree in Montgomery Mall which allowed the group to walk off some of the calories from the trip. Mrs. Bryan had fun with her Gayfer's credit card and Sarah Campbell purchased a brass unicorn. Beth Murphy, Julie Davis and Cynthia Williams led David McCarroll through shop after shop of ladies' clothes. Kim Brunson, Sheila Simmons and Sarah Campbell bought matching beanies.

The trip back to Zion Chapel was an enjoyable one as everyone brought back something to remember the trip by, even if it were no more than a stomach full of seafood or memories of a good time.

Annual staff members making the trip were Wyman L. McWaters, David Rainey, Jason Hussey, David McCarroll, Kim Brunson, Janet Stewart, Kelly Sheffield, Sheila Simmons, Rhonda Senn, Sarah Campbell, Krista Dyess, Glenda Bell, Julie Davis, Leah Grissett, Beth Murphy and Cynthia Williams.

Chaperones were Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Joyce Flowers, Mrs. Judy Grissett, Mrs. Sylvia Hussey and Mrs. Bobby Williams.

The trip was made on a holiday because such field trips are not allowed during school hours.

Fourth Graders Complete Projects

BY: KIM BRUNSON

All fourth-grade students recently did Alabama History projects to help them understand the hardships of pioneer life in the 1800's.

The projects were required to be hand-made, similar to the cabins in their books, and have some parent involvement.

The log cabins that were made, were made of logs that were notched together (in place of nails). The roof was thatched of bark. Each cabin had a stone fireplace. If there were windows, they were covered with skins.

These projects were completed for the classes of Mrs. Betty Refegee and Mrs. Chris Sutley.

Committee Discusses Revisions Of Reports Cards

BY: KRISTA DYESS

Revision of report cards has been discussed in the Coffee County high schools. A committee composed of principals, guidance counselors and teachers has been formed to discuss possible plans. Committee members from Zion Chapel are Mrs. Rachel Bryan, Mrs. Mary Herbert, Mrs. Melinda Sanders and Dr. Willard Crabtree. Members from Kinston are Mr. Laven Cain and Mr. Jack Burkett. Mr. Stanley Walker, Mrs. Janice Strickland and Mrs. Peggy DeVane are committee members from New Brockton.

The possibility for revision of report cards originated when there were complaints about the present cards tearing apart easily. They are made of NCR paper and have five copies. It is difficult to make an impression on the cardboard through the first four copies. Making out report cards is time-consuming because the names of the many subjects have to be written in.

The report cards will only be changed if that is the desire of a majority of the teachers in Coffee County. If it is changed, ideas from all the schools will be considered and incorporated. The main purpose of the committee meetings is to view report card samples from other schools, to get ideas to help the teachers, and to help the guidance counselors who have to record grades on permanent student records.

In charge of all committee meetings is Mr. Roger Bowden. Mr. Bowden said, "There is always room for improvement in anything you do. Our number one concern is that the teachers of Coffee County have a quality product." Committee members from each of the schools are discussing ideas with their individual faculties.

Campus Beauty Contest To Be Held Dec. 1 At 7:00

BY: WENDY NELSON

Lights, makeup, hair spray and excited anticipation will all be ingredients in the atmosphere on the night of the annual Zion Chapel

Campus Beauty Pageant.

The pageant will be held on Saturday, December 1. It will begin at 7 in the Zion Chapel gym. There will be an admission of $2.00 on the door.

The pageant will include three categories of competition: kindergarten through fourth grade; fifth through ninth grade, and tenth through twelfth grade. There will be a winner and four runners-up in each division.

Last year's campus beauty Sherri Michelle Oglesby will crown the winners in their respective divisions.

Cosmetology Class Now Visiting At Project Independence

BY: RHONDA SENN

Does it seem as if there are no more good people in this world? Well, the Area Vocational Cosmetology class at Zion Chapel has set out to prove that there are still good things people are doing for others.

The AV Cosmetology class has started monthly visits to Project Independence. One day out of the month the second- and third-year students visit Project Independence to cut or style the students' hair.

Each cosmetology student is assigned a child and is responsible for keeping that child's hair styled to his or her taste.

There are three students from Zion Chapel who help the children at Project Independence. Tammy Ellis, Crystal Mauldin and Vickie Marler enjoy styling the children's hair.

"The kids are very anxious to see us coming," said Vickie, a three-year cosmetology student. All three students feel very fortunate to be a part of this project.

Beta Club Ready To

Pass Out Goods

BY: RHONDA SENN

"Whew!" was the sigh of relief given by the members of the Beta Club as their sales ended November 14. Cookies, wrapping paper, candle holders and other useful gadgets were gladly dismissed as the members turned in their forms to Mrs. Herbert, the Beta Club sponsor.

An estimated total of $2033.40 was raised for the support of Beta Club projects. The most important project of the Beta Club is the annual "Operation Santa Claus". This special project is undertaken to give extraordinary children a memorable Christmas.

Another project of the Beta Club is to buy the stoles and cords for the senior members of the Beta Club chapter. All the members are excitedly looking forward to these projects, but they know only half of their work has been completed.

These cookies, calendars, erasers and oven mitts will be ready for distribution next week.

Brantley Rallies Late To Oust Dozier 20-6

STORY AND PICTURES BY: BILLY WAYNE WILLIAMSON

The Brantley Bulldogs converted two fourth quarter fumbles into touchdowns last Friday night as they pulled out a hard-fought 20-6 win over the Dozier Tigers in the second round of the state Class 1A football playoffs.

The win, Brantley's 10th straight, upped the Bulldogs record to 10-2 and advanced the Dogs to a third match-up with the Sweet Water Bulldogs.

Brantley got its hands on the ball on the Dozier 43 following a short Dozier punt early in the game, and wasted no time moving in for a score.

Marvin Booker was the workhorse of the drive with 34-yards on 6 carries.

while Keith Dorsey got the touchdown on a 1-yard plunge. A bad snap foiled the extra-point attempt, leaving the Dogs with a 6-0 lead with 6:48 left in the first quarter.

Dozier's offense came to life on its next series and drove 72-yards in 8 plays to tie the game at 6-6. A big play in the drive was a 47-yard pass from Gary Williams to Larry Daniels, while the score came on a 1-yard run by Calvin Daniels. The extra-point was blocked by a host of Bulldog linemen, keeping the score at 6-6 with 3:43 still left in the opening stanza.

Brantley came right back following the Dozier score and marched down to the Tiger 10-yard-line behind the running and passing of Bernard Foster. The Bulldogs got as close as the 7, but got knocked back by two penalties and a sack and then turned the ball over on a fumble on the 38.

A pass interception by Foster on Dozier's first play following the fumble gave the ball right back to the Dogs and this time Brantley marched to a first down at the Dozier 27. The Bulldogs got down to the 24 on second down, only to lose another fumble that again kept the Dogs off the board!

The half ended only minutes later as Brantley missed another chance to score when a wide-open receiver couldn't find the handle on the ball on a halfback pass, and at intermission the two teams went in tied up at 6-6.

Dozier received the second half kick and promptly began a drive that covered 71-yards and carried all the way to the Brantley 4-yardline. A 10-yard pass from Gary Williams to Fred Harris and a 12-yard pass from Lynn Burnett to Chuck Ridgeway were big plays in the drive. The drive came down to a fourth-and-two at the 4-yardline, and Brantley came up with the big play as Marvin Booker hit Calvin Daniels for a 5-yard loss!

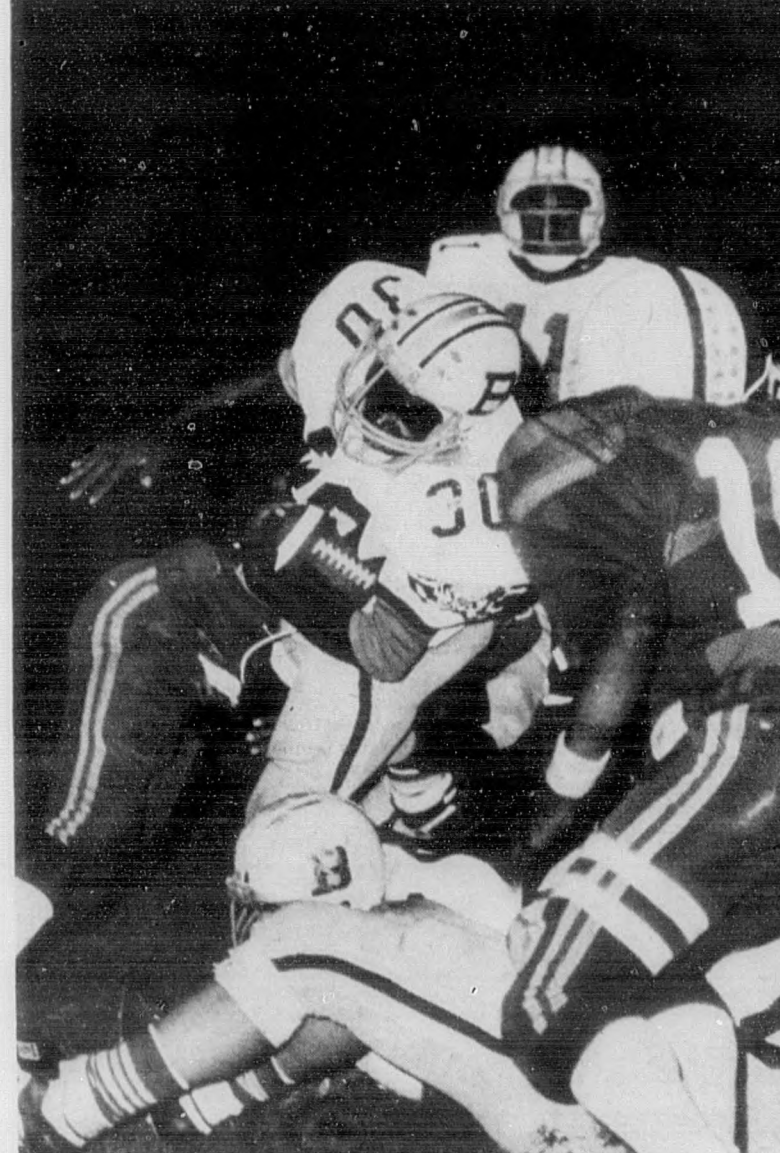

The Bulldogs offense showed it too was ready, and began a drive of its own that carried to the Dozier 10-yardline. The 80-yard drive came entirely on the ground, with Marvin Booker and Keith Dorsey doing most of the legwork. The Dogs moved to a first down at the 12, but couldn't push it in and came away empty-handed when Dorsey's 30-yard field-goal attempt sailed wide.

The Bulldogs got the ball back one play later when Marty White recovered a fumble at the Dozier 26, and this time the Dogs wouldn't be denied! The score came on a 10-yard run by Marvin Booker, and although a two-point conversion failed, Brantley owned a 12-6 lead with 9:08 left in the game.

Dozier fumbled again on its first play following the ensuing kick and Brantley's Lee Johnson recovered on the Tiger 42-yardline to put the Bulldogs back in business! The Bulldogs kept the ball on the ground following the turn over, with Booker and Dorsey again eating up large chunks of real estate. Booker got the touchdown on a 2-yard run and also ran in the 2-point conversion, giving Brantley a 20-6 lead with 3:55 left in the game.

Brantley's Doug Salter intercepted a Dozier pass at midfield to end the Tigers' hopes of a comeback and the Bulldogs ran out the clock to preserve the 20-6 win!

Marvin Booker gained 177-yards on 32 carries to lead Brantley, while Keith Dorsey added 97-yards on 16 carries.

Brantley standout Marvin Booker (30) barrels through a hole and heads for the end zone in the Bulldogs' 20-6 win.

Commission Delays Paving Plans Due To Changes In Width Of Roadway

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, November 26, at the courthouse in Enterprise and opened bids on various materials for the county's highway department, but rejected all bids on paving four roads after stating all future roads to be paved would be a minimum of 18 feet wide and not 14 feet as called for in the specifications.

Commissioner Eugene Bradley made the motion after reminding the commission of an earlier decision concerning the width of all roads to be paved, and the motion passed without opposition, after Bradley agreed to open new bids at the first meeting in December.

Commissioner Billy Egerton had tried to have the original motion withdrawn when he stated he didn't make the motion, logged in the minutes of the previous meeting. Egerton's attempt to have the minutes amended failed when he and Bradley voted for the motion, while Martin, Boutwell and Bowden voted against the motion.

The meeting began at 9:00 in the morning with the first order of business being the opening of bids. The low bid from Wiregrass Construction was accepted on surface, prime and base material to be placed at the plant, with other bidders including Hooper Inc., S&C Materials and Couch, Inc.

The low bid on identical materials to be delivered at the job site was offered by Wiregrass also and was accepted. The only other bid was received from S&C Materials. Low bidder on hot bituminous pavement to be picked up at the plant was S&C Materials and was accepted by the commission. Other bidders were Wiregrass and Couch.

Wiregrass Construction was low bidder on bituminous pavement to be delivered at the job site and was accepted over bids by S&C and Couch. Choctaw was the only bidder on pipe and received the contract after review by the county engineer.

Bids on crushed limestone and rip-rap were highly competitive, with Southern Stone being low bidder. Other bidders were Vulcan Materials and Southeast Materials.

Dowling Truck and Tractor, Enterprise Auto Parts, City Auto Parts and Taylor Parts all bid on various filters to be used by the highway department, but the awarding of the contract was delayed until the engineer could examine the bids in detail.

Bids were also opened on two new cars for the sheriff's department with Ed Sherling Ford being low bidder and getting the order after an unusual vote. Ed Sherling Ford underbid Dixie Ford and City Auto Sales, and got the order by a vote of 2-1, with two abstaining. Egerton and Bradley voted for the low bid, while Bowden voted no and Martin and Boutwell abstained from voting.

In other action at the meeting on Monday the commission:

presented a resolution to the family of the late Fred Donaldson for his years of service to the citizens of Coffee County;

agreed to auction surplus material on December 15 at an auction with the county school system;

sent out invitations to bid on concrete for flames at the Victoria gully project;

failed to act on a request to name Holland Walters as the foreman in Work Area 4;

approved the annual financial statement;

was informed the absentee ballots had been delivered to the state as required;

passed a resolution commending Randall Lucas for his work as director of the Elba Work Release Center during his tenure at the facility; and told the engineer to do the work requested at the Union Grove Church.

PRESENTS RESOLUTION... Coffee County Probate Judge Marion Brunson reads a resolution adopted by the county commission honoring the late Fred L. Donaldson, former county tax collector. Accepting the resolution are Mrs. Marianne Nietzold and Mr. Fred Donaldson, children of the late Mr. Donaldson.

To Aid Pool Construction

Council Accepts $40,000 Federal Grant

The Elba City Council met Monday evening for a short meeting with very little business to handle. All members were present with the only official business being the signing of a resolution and approving purchase of a dump truck.

The council gave official approval to a resolution allowing Mayor Bob English to enter into an agreement to accept a $40,000 federal grant to be used on the construction of the new public swimming pool. The facility will cost an estimated $296,000 and will be located in Hawkins Williams Park, just off Smith Avenue. A $50,000 grant had already been approved for the facility; the balance will come from city monies. While some of the work will be done by the city "in-kind", English told council members that federal agencies strongly recommend the entire pool itself be done by a single contract to clarify responsibility for any problems that might arise.

The proposed facility will be L-shaped, with a 75-foot by 45-foot main pool, and a 30x75-foot diving well to facilitate use of both one- and three-meter diving boards. A 10x14 wading pool, lifeguard facilities, concrete decking, etc.; a bath house with showers and restrooms, security lighting and fencing around the pool; fifteen picnic tables, ten outdoor grills and a 20x40 covered pavilion and sidewalks to connect them all will round out the recreational accommodations.

Bids on a dump truck were opened at the last council meeting, but accepting of low bid was postponed to insure the bidder was meeting all specifications. Council members Cleo Hawkins and John Sharpless were appointed to check this matter and they reported back that Lonnie Russell Ford of Birmingham met or exceeded all specifications, and recommended purchase of the dump truck from them at a cost of $15,091.

Mayor English reported on the financial condition of the city and noted that there was $150,000 in interest-bearing accounts, yielding 10.23 percent. Most of this amount is obligated for various projects but the interest it is earning goes into the general fund for day-to-day operations.

The first budget comparison for the year showed revenue exceeding predictions and all departments except the street department under budget on spending.

A major change in the fire department is being considered by Mayor English with approval of the council. He explained Monday night that he had proposed to the volunteer fire department the firing of three fulltime firemen with the goal of lowering fire insurance rates up to 25 percent. He explained there would be one fireman on duty at all times and when a fire alarm was sounded, this individual would immediately leave with the fire truck, and when the volunteers arrived at the fire scene, the truck would be there, hoses hooked up and ready to fight the blaze. English noted he had checked two similar size communities in Alabama that were using this system and it worked well and at the same time saved money for the local citizens.

English noted however that there were some firemen who either didn't understand the procedure or simply didn't like it, but the majority was in favor of looking into the matter.

The proposal to extend the city limits must be handled with care, English noted, to work smoothly with the fire protection capabilities of the force. He noted that fire officials only recognized a six-inch water line as being enough for fire protection and Elba had some that needed upgrading for this purpose.

Dept. Of Environmental Management Orders Elba Man To Close Waste Dump

The Alabama Department of Environmental Management (ADEM) has ordered the owner of a waste disposal site near Elba to stop receiving all waste and to close the site immediately for violations of state environmental regulations.

L.M. Burch has operated the disposal site for non-hazardous waste on Alabama Highway 89, approximately six miles north of Elba, since 1979. Regular site inspections by ADEM personnel have revealed violations of state standards, primarily those requiring adequate compaction and coverage of waste - on at least eight occasions between 1979 and December 1983. ADEM Solid Waste Management Regulations require that waste be compacted daily and covered with a minimum of six inches of soil.

Burch was previously notified of the violations and given an opportunity to correct the deficiencies. After failing to do so, he was notified to close the site by March 1, 1984. Waste is no longer being received.

An administrative order issued by ADEM to establish a method and schedule for achieving compliance when violations of environmental permit conditions or regulations occur. Failure to comply with an order can result in the commencement of legal action for the recovery of civil penalties, criminal fines, or other appropriate relief.

Elba Rescue Squad Is...

Always There When You Need It

Three a.m.

The eerie "beep beep" of a pocket pager wakes a member of the Elba Rescue Squad from a sound sleep. He gets up, calls police headquarters, and learns there has been a wreck on the Opp Highway. He dresses quickly and heads for town, where he meets another squad member. They are a team - one a driver, the other a certified emergency medical technician or EMT - experts at responding to life - and - death situations. Siren wailing, they speed to the scene of the accident and find a woman trapped in her car which has skidded off the rain-slick highway and smashed into a tree. Using a special mechanical device known as the "jaws of life," they pry open the door of the car, get the victim out, administer first-aid on the spot, then rush her to Elba General Hospital. Her injuries are severe, so they transport her on to Flowers General Hospital in Dothan where she undergoes emergency surgery.

By early morning, the Rescue Squad members are back in Elba, heading for their regular jobs - bone-tired, but knowing they have performed another life-saving mission.

It's a hypothetical situation, but a typical night's work for the men and women who are Rescue Squad volunteers. They are a special breed of folk who perform a crucial service in such an efficient way, we often take them for granted.

Their training is unique. Of the 24 members of the squad, about a third are qualified as Emergency Medical Technicians. They have gone to night school for a least three months to learn all the technical aspects of dealing with emergency situations. Some go beyond that to acquire training in advanced emergency techniques. Their training continues throughout the year in special seminars and classes. Other members of the Squad perform the critical jobs of driving ambulances and assisting with rescues and other emergency work. Squad members are qualified to do every job from transporting a sick person to a nursing home to delivering a baby.

They work with modern, sophisticated equipment. A $35,000 ambulance is equipped with oxygen tanks, suction gear, splints, collars for neck and spinal injuries, and the valuable "jaws of life" as well as a wide array of first-aid supplies. And on each mission, they take an ample supply of understanding and tender-loving-care.

Elba citizens and civic groups have supported the Rescue Squad with money and encouragement. Rescue Squad members, in turn, serve without pay because they are dedicated to providing their unique service to the community.

The next time you see a Rescue Squad member, tell him or her how much you appreciate their unselfish service. Someday you or a friend or family member may need them in a hurry. They'll be there.

City Worker Shot By Fellow Worker At City Barn

A disagreement between two employees of the Elba Sanitation Department resulted in a shooting at the city barn on Tuesday, November 27.

According to the Elba Police Department, two employees on a garbage truck got into an argument while on duty, and upon completion of the rounds a shooting occurred at the maintenance barn.

Shot was John Mitchell, who was transferred to an Enterprise hospital. Mitchell, who had not pressed charges at press time, was shot in the hand with a .38 caliber revolver.

City Board Of Education Sets Open House Dec. 9

The Elba City Board of Education cordially invites you to attend Open House at the Elba Junior and Senior High Schools on Sunday, the ninth of December from two until three-thirty o'clock.

National Healthcare Welcomes New Investors

National Healthcare, Inc., headquartered in Dothan, observed its third anniversary Thursday with a day-long celebration that included a meeting of stockholders and bankers whose money and confidence are making NHI one of the most robust and fastest growing companies in America.

Four new stockholders introduced by NHI president Steve Phelps have just invested $5,500,000. Also present were representatives of Citibank in New York which recently signed an agreement to lend the company $20,000,000 to develop new health care facilities. The company already owns, leases or operates 17 hospitals and nursing homes in six states, including the Elba General Hospital.

ESJC Art Students Paint Historical County Sites

Art students at Enterprise State are preserving part of the Wiregrass heritage in paintings which are displayed in the Enterprise and Elba courthouses.

"This is a marvelous way to display our heritage," said Judge Marion Brunson. "The paintings of our area landmarks are a permanent part of our courthouses," he added.

Five paintings are on display in the Enterprise courthouse and three in the Elba courthouse. The paintings include two of the Boll Weevil Monument and one each of the First Methodist Church, the Little Red School House, the Enterprise courthouse, the Elba courthouse, the Rawls Hotel and Cole's Bridge.

Delano Anderson, ESJC art instructor, was instrumental in getting students to paint the landmarks. "Our students are currently working on several more paintings," Anderson said. "Other landmarks have been requested and we plan to begin work on them soon. Persons wishing to suggest a landmark can come to me at 393-ESJC," he added.

"I believe the courthouses are the perfect places to display the paintings," Judge Brunson commented, "because everyone has to come to the courthouse at least once during the year."
